EDITORIAL POLICY AND ETHICAL PRINCIPLES

The editorial policy of the journal is based of the journal is based on generally accepted principles of science and research paper publishers, which are presented in the recommendations of international organizations dealing with the topic of publication ethics, copyright and authorship:

Code of Conduct and Best Practice Guidelines for Journal Editors

Code of Conduct for Journal Publishers and Principles of Transparency and Best Practice in Scholarly Publishing

COPE Ethical Guidelines for Peer Reviewers

Guidelines for retracting articles

International standards for editors and authors and Committee on Publication Ethics

The European Association of Science Editors (EASE)

The positions of journals ethics are formed according to ethical principles accepted by Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE). Everyone who takes part in the preparation of the article, namely: the authors, reviewers, and editors are obliged to follow these ethical guidelines. In the case when there is a suspicion that the ethical principles were not followed, the editorial board is committed to follow the instructions of the COPE regarding similar issues.

Copyright

The journal is publishing according to the Budapest open access initiative, under Creative Commons 4.0 License.

Authorship

Every person who took significant part in the preparation of the paper, in the research on which the paper is based, or in the preparation of the manuscript, and whom is responsible for the content of the article is considered a coauthor. The corresponding author takes responsibility for presentation of every author in the article and the arrangement of all the changes during the review process with other authors.